

"My name is Sophia. Psychology graduate from the University of Sussex, in the process of pursuing a career in Clinical Psychology.

Strong interest in conducting research, which has been further developed by the completion of my final year thesis, which will be published in the scientific literature. Have completed a 3-month internship as a research assistant of the CEO of Home-Start East Sussex, an organisation helping women who experience domestic abuse. Have been an active volunteer at ADHD Brighton, assisting individuals in drop-in sessions and shadowing the therapist in therapy sessions."

"My name is Odysseas Economou and I have graduated from the University of Essex studying Psychology. I am eager to further grow my academic knowledge by means of a postgraduate degree in Clinical Psychology. I am interested in both the clinical and research aspects of Psychology and Neuroscience. I am excited to work with the Center of Applied Neuroscience and absorb everything this opportunity has to offer me."
